Art – Painting

What I already know

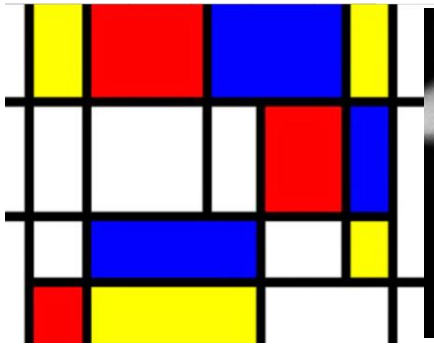

- Paint is a coloured liquid that you can use to make pictures.
- A tool used to paint is a paintbrush.
- Children will also have experience painting with different medias such as their hands and fingers.

Overview of unit:

Children will begin by exploring the primary colours using a range of different media e.g. various brushes, sponges, cotton buds, etc. They will then explore the work of Piet Mondrian and recreate a piece of his art work. Following this, children will use the primary colours to explore colour mixing and creating secondary colours. Using the secondary colours, the children will recreate the work of both Paul Klee and Paul Cezanne. Finally, they will use all of the knowledge that they have learnt to paint a picture taking inspiration from the work of Wassily Kandinsky. .
